Stop Press 1

Dear Student,

Textbook and the Select Software

There has been some delay in getting the textbooks from the UK. We expect the books will arrive in Hong Kong in around 10 April.

The vendor of the Select software was taken over by an American Company. We have been contacting the company for over two months and the progress has been slow. Now we are close to making a deal and would expect to have the software before May. As the software will not be used until Week 6, we hope that your study schedule would not be affected.

Some students have suggested that the cut-off dates of the assignments be postponed. I will consider it when the textbooks arrive to see how your study schedule has been affected.

Please also note that I have replaced Mr. T.L. Fong as the course coordinator. My email address and telephone number are shown at the footer of this stop press.

I would also like to remind you to visit the home page of the course:
